

Meet Shaun Rademeyer, CEO of MultiNET Home Loans

Shaun Rademeyer, the CEO of MultiNET Home Loans is a well-known figure in the property industry. He is driven to succeed and to take as many people as he can with him on his journey to success.

This journey has seen Shaun hold several strategic positions in his career including in short-term insurance at Auto and General and sales & management at BetterBond home loans. These have given him a well-grounded insight into property and bond origination, helping him bring a new vision and way of working to the industry.

Shaun is an experienced Chief Executive Officer with a demonstrated history of success in the financial services industry. His key skills include keen negotiation, business planning, operations management, sales, and people management. Together with his professional experience and current vision to provide alternative bond origination options, he works tirelessly to build a sustainable origination industry that subscribes to free market principles.

Through his commitment to success, he infuses his own brand of energy into his work philosophy encouraging all to 'be bold in the pursuit of your dreams' and in so doing aims for MultiNET Home Loans to be everything a bond originator should be to the customers and to its people.

Prior to relocating to the Western Cape Shaun served as Treasurer of Fourways High School for 2 years. He was fully involved in the school's administration of the budgets and further decision making on expenditure decisions, which contributed to achieving many of the schools' goals and objectives, such as upgrading of facilities and collection of outstanding school fees.

Rhenish can benefit from Shaun's knowledge and expertise in the fields of business and financial planning, he also has a very broad understanding of the governmental requirements in terms of schooling processes.
